

Workshop Title: One Health – the Collaboration of Education, Medicine, and Agriculture

Main Organizer & Contact Person:

Organizer: Biodynamic Association of Taiwan

Contact: Frank Tsay

Steering Committee Members: (No specific names provided in the document)

Main Topic:

1. Ecological care and restoration of the future
2. Agriculture, Medical Care & Eldercare
3. Collaboration between Education and Medicine

Targeted Public:

Individuals worldwide interested in the collaboration between education, medicine, and agriculture.

Main Objectives of the Workshop:

1. To promote the concept of "One Health" by exploring the collaboration between education, medicine, and agriculture.
2. To enhance understanding of how these fields contribute to holistic healing and sustainable development for humanity and the planet.
3. To inspire conversation and actions aimed at building a balanced society that integrates individual and community needs.
4. To showcase successful examples of such collaboration in educational settings, organic agriculture, and medical practices, fostering a healthier future for all.

Language: English and Chinese (with translators provided).

Maximum Participants: 50-100 people.